

Blind Water Balloon Volleyball

Tie an opaque shower curtain to two poles to form the “net”. Lay down two bed sheets on each side of the “net.” You should not be able to see through the “net.” Have each team sit on their bed sheets. Fill a couple dozen balloons with water and divide between the two teams. Have each team sit on their sheet with their water balloons. Each team tries to throw over a water balloon so that it hits the sheet on the other side. Because the teams cannot see the other team, it is harder to be ready to catch the flying water balloons. The team with the most “hits” wins.
